DEDICATION

MRS. J. OLLIE EDMUNDS

Who can be a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. Strength and honor are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come. Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.

—Proverbs 31

The warmth of your smile and the sincerity of your welcome coupled with the reassuring hand you have given our President, has meant much to those who have known Stetson and you. We feel that you have played an integral part in helping our institution achieve the high ideals for which it now stands.

We will think of you through the years as one constant in your devotion, wise in your understanding, unselfish in your service, courageous in your difficulties, winsome in your personality, and dedicated to the Stetson family.

That inner feeling you have, we all wish to possess so that we can face life better prepared as we move into it.

We thank God for you, and the inspiration of your life.

PRESIDENT

Once again it is my privilege to salute our students, our faculty, our trustees, our alumni, and all our friends everywhere!

During the year which has just closed, the University has faced several acute problems; but these only seemed to bring the students, faculty, alumni, and trustees closer together, and to remind us that the Stetson community is much larger than we realized. Even while we were discovering new friends, we were pleased to see how interested all our old friends were in our problems, and how anxious they were to help.

To all of these friends, old and new, we send a cordial greeting. We hope that as you turn the pages of this book and find a picture story of student life at Stetson, you will be pleased to consider yourself a member of the Stetson family.

It is our sincere hope that all of you will be faithful to the ideals and purposes of your "Alma Mater," wherever you may be, and that you will return home as often as you can.

Three legs are better than four?

The Pikes pull their way to victory and the trophy.
